Tropical Cyclone Pam Recovery

Category-5 Tropical Cyclone Pam devastated Vanuatu in March 2015. Red Cross continues to work with communities in recovery. Currently working in Paama, the Shepherd Islands, Tanna, Efate and Efate offshore islands, Red Cross focuses on the areas of shelter, WASH, livelihoods and DRR. Recovery work is completed in partnership with the International Federation of Red Cross Red Crescent, Australian Red Cross and French Red Cross.

Reconstruction of the damaged school buildings at Nofo school on Emae island is well underway. Red Cross is now receiving additional assistance in the construction from the Vanuatu Military Force (VMF).

Also in the Shepherds Islands, materials for the construction of latrines have been delivered to 6 villages and trainings run with community members in how to construct the latrines. Red Cross volunteers will be assisting community members to construct the latrines in the coming months. Two new rainwater catchments have also been constructed on Emae and Makira islands. In October, volunteers from Emae, Makira and Mataso participated in a first aid training of the trainer course so that they can then pass these life-saving skills onto other community members.

In Paama, 320 latrines have now been constructed by community members with assistance from Red Cross volunteers. Planning is also underway for the installation of hand pumps in all 23 villages of the island in the coming months.

In Tanna, 27 latrines have now been constructed in schools as well as tap stands for water access. Red Cross has developed and is ready to implement an exciting new WASH in schools module which will be trialled in Tanna next month.

In October, the second phase of the livelihoods recovery program commenced. The new phase will see cyclone-affected urban youth in Port Vila provided the opportunity to undertake vocational and small business management training. This will be combined with a mentoring program to give these youth guidance to succeed in their chosen fields.

Youth Empowering Vulnerable Communities

Vanuatu Red Cross has just commenced a new short term project in Santo funded by Japanese Red Cross, 'Youth Empowering Vulnerable Communities'. This project will focus on engaging youth volunteers to deliver DRR awareness in 10 communities in Santo. Awareness sessions will be conducted over the next 3 months and the project will complete in March next year.

Red Cross is working on repairing evacuation roads and has begun the Construction of the first two kindergartens of 16 kindergartens in 16 communities across North Tanna. Imafen and Eniu communities of North Tanna have already had their kindergarten's foundations laid and are erecting the walls currently. The Kindergarten Construction project not only provides an important asset to communities for their children but also sees the selection and hiring of 14 workers to continue working on the 14 remaining kindergartens offering local jobs to local people.

Each Kindergarten will include a rain water harvesting system and four latrines; two for children, and one each for men and women. The kindergartens will also include a small space where Community Disaster Committees (CDC's) can conduct their work and awareness activities making the kindergartens a multipurpose facility for communities during everyday activities as well as in a disaster. An MoU is also being prepared for the use of the Kindergartens once constructions are complete. Finally, Build Back Better and Build Back Safer awareness sessions have been conducted in 8 communities out of 16 and on the DRR side Training on CDC Roles and Responsibilities are ongoing.

The First Aid team has also been busy translating much of its training materials into Bislama which will be ready in late January for use across each of the 5 provincial branches as commercial and community First aid programs. A major development for the branches which enables the provision of Vanuatu context appropriate training to communities, volunteers and staff as well as the ability to raise funds for branch activities through engaging in commercial first Aid ventures.

Organisational Development

Our Organisational Development Coordinator has been hard at work and VRCS has recently concluded an MOU with NDMO IT The MOU enables the National Advisory Board for climate change and Disaster Risk Reduction online portal to include the VRCS Website.

Meet the VRCS Finance & HR Team

A team that VRCS could not function without, however often only found working behind the scenes. The Finance and HR team could be described as the glue that holds VRCS together. Hard at work ensuring all finances are accounted for and that daily activities are smooth not to forget the organisation of visas for overseas workshops and travel are up to date. After a teary eyed farewell to Matea Bandol we now welcome Mittal Pardeen to our team as the finance and administration delegate. Also as Stephanie will be taking maternity leave we also welcome Pricilla Stevens to our team. Often seeing much of the field activity through accounts, two of our finance staff had the opportunity to travel to Tanna recently. Guillaume just recently spent a week in Tanna providing support and mentoring to the finance/logistics officer there. While Sheilla accompanied Madam CEO to Tanna and provided training to the branch officer and Chair on how to manage the new VRCS donation box recently installed at Whitegrass airport. Thank you to the Finance, HR and Admin team for the consistent dedication and support to us all.
